

A BAD DREAM

BY KACA, SOFIJA AND ELENA

Low battery. Exactly the two words Shay didn't want to hear right now. Shay was going into the dark forest. She was scared of the forest animals.

In one moment one of those animals jumped on her. It was a snake, on which Shay stepped by accident, and it bit her. She started panicking because she wasn't sure if the snake was poisonous or not. So she got up and tried to go out of forest while screaming for help. Than again she saw the snake. But this snake was different and she didn't want to bite Shay. This snake wasn't just any snake, she could talk and she said: "Are you all right? Me and my fiends will help you, and don't worry that snake that bit you wasn't poisonous, that snake is Jack and he likes to bit people when he's not in the mood", and other snakes came...

Shay didn't know if she was hallucinating or those snakes could really talk. She was looking around and trying to see what was happening. She fainted. Then after a while she opened her eyes and she was in her bedroom. She was relieved when she saw her mum, her two cats and she realised it was just a bad dream.
