

Customs in the World

In America, you shouldn't speak loudly on the phone in public. It's rude. People don't like listening to other people's conversations.

In South Africa, you should bring flowers, chocolate or a bottle of good wine when you visit somebody.

In Thailand,
you shouldn't
pat anyone on the top of the head.

In Serbia, you should eat pork or lamb for Christmas. You don't usually eat turkey.

In Japan, don't say the number four at all because it's unlucky, it
reminds them of death.
